Training on the new ISO 45001:2018 standard for occupational health and safety management systems. You will be certified in auditing after completing the course.

The introduction of ISO 45001 marks the final addition to the comprehensive set of standards dedicated to health, safety, environment, and quality (HSEQ). By implementing a uniform structure, standardized main clause titles, and shared definitions, along with a risk-based thinking approach, this framework profoundly influences strategic business directions and objectives.

The inaugural ISO standard exclusively focused on occupational health and safety brings much-needed clarity to the categorization of workers, while also empowering them to actively participate in all aspects of the occupational health and safety (OHS) management system.
